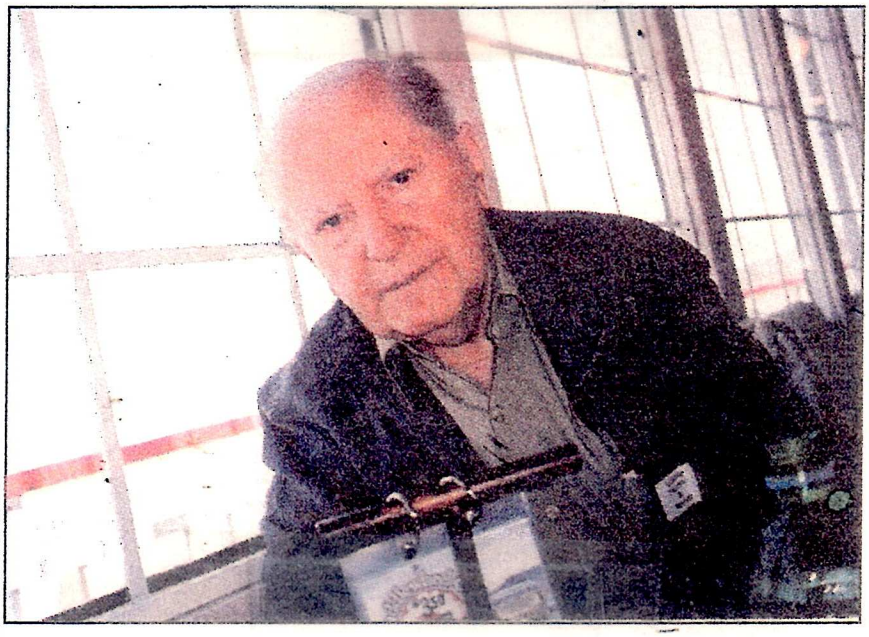
ITALIAN & FRENCH INSTRUTOR SPREADS HIS KNOWLEDGE

CRESSKILL: - The Cresskill Senior Activity Center located at 38 Spring Street, will resume its beginner Italian which will transition in 101 Italian and restart Beginner French starting Monday, September 13th. Italian will start at 10:00 am. and French at 11:00 am. Instructor Livio M. Laganis offers his vast knowledge of many languages, translation skills and teaching capabilities to instruct local seniors in the art of Italian and French.



Laganis has lived in Cresskill since 1985 and works in tax, Translation and counseling. He has taught Latin in Africa and numerous languages in Europe including Ancient Greek, Russian and French. He studied and graduated with degrees in Philosophy and Philology from the University of Zagreb in Croatia, a Family therapy degree from Montclair State University.

"All my life I have been going to school for something." Laganis said. "I like to get as much knowledge as I can and then give it away by teaching all kinds of people."

The Italian class has been going strong at the Cresskill Senior Activity Center since September 2009; his focus has been accent, pronunciation and speaking. He will revisit this in the fall, but hopes to delve into grammar, writing and expression as the class progresses.

French clas,s as just started in June of 2010, we have taken a break for the summer and will restart from the beginning in September.

Anyone can join the classes – from beginners who only know a few words to fluent speakers who want to improve. The classes runs for an hour, but Laganis is willing to stay after with beginners.
